Introduction

Human as social being needs to interact so that all of us can live together and understand each other. Language is a communication tool between members of society. According to Cruse (2000), language is use to communicate about things, happenings, and states of affairs in the world. People make conversation to get some information or gain knowledge about what happens in the environment.

Pragmatics is a branch of linguistics that study about utterances meaning and context. According to Yule (1996), pragmati cs is concern with the study of meaning as communicated by a speaker (the writer) and interpreted by a listener (the reader). Pragmatics consists of deixis, speech act, presupposition, entailment, politeness, cooperation and implicature. In addition, Leech (1983) explained that pragmatics is how language is used in communication.

Maxim is a succinct formulation of a fundamental principle, general truth, of rule or conduct (Wikipedia, 2017). When people use polite communication, they will minimize the conflict that may be happened in communication, that’s why using politeness principle in a communication is an important aspect. However, a participant in a talk exchange may fail to fulfill the maxim in various ways, which may end in a maxim violation (Herman, 2015; Herman, 2015; Hutajulu and Herman; Sitorus and Herman, 2019).

Lakoff (1990: 123) stated that politeness is a system of interpersonal relation designed to facilitate interaction by minimizing the potential for conflict and confrontation inherent in all human interchange. Leech (1983) introduces the politeness principle which principally minimizes the expression of impolite beliefs, and there is a corresponding positive version. Additionally, Leech also stated that his generally politeness principle is basically use to maintain social equilibrium which may be harmed by someone speech act.
According to Allen and Gemery (1985), movie is an art which portrays man’s interpretation of live. Cartoon movies have supposed a potentially valuable contribution in teaching and they have visually impacted all students immediately without discrimination of age or background, are able to respond in some way to the educational point being made. Big Hero 6 is an American 3D superhero cartoon movie produced by Wald Disney Animation Studios on 2014. This movie is chosen because it has very big influence to the viewers and also delivers the message of how to be polite on the environment, family, school and other society. For all reason, the researcher that interested in politeness principle analysis on a movie, decided to conduct a research entitled “An Analysis of Politeness Maxims Found in Big Hero 6 Movie”.

Literature Review

1. The Nature of Pragmatics
   Yule (1996) states that pragmatics is the study about meaning conveyed by the speaker (or writer) and interpreted by the listener (or reader). It has relationship with the analysis of what people means by utter some utterances. According to Leech (1983), pragmatics can be usefully defined as the study of how utterances have meaning in situation. While Levinson (1997) states that pragmatics is the study of ability of language users to pair sentences in the context which they would be appropriate.

2. The Scope of Pragmatics
   According to Levinson (1997), pragmatics is the study of deixis, implicature, presupposition, speech act and aspect of discourse structure.
   a. Deixis
      Deixis means ‘pointing’ via language (Yule, 1996). Deixis is clearly form of referring that is tied to the speaker’s context.
   b. Implicature
      Yule (1996) states that implicature is an additional conveyed meaning. On the other hand, according to Grice (1975), a speech can imply proposition, that can be called by implicature, which are not the part of the speech. The two basic kinds of implicature namely: Conventional implicature, and Conversation implicature. Additionally, in the conversation implicature, Grice proposes four maxims, namely: Quality, Quantity, Relation, and Manner maxim.
   c. Presupposition
      Presupposition is something the speaker assumes to be the case of prior to making an utterance (Yule: 1996: 45).
   d. Speech act

3. Politeness Principle Maxim
   Yule (1996) states that politeness can be defined as the means employed to show awareness to another person’s face. Additionally, Yule stated two face namely: Negative politeness and Positive politeness. Further Leech (1983) defines politeness as the ability of participants in a social interaction to engage the interaction in an atmosphere of relative harmony (in a conversational exchange). According to Leech (1983: 209), the politeness principle concerns with two participants of conversation. Those are self as the speaker, and other as hearer. The politeness principles divided into six maxims, as follows (Maharani, 2017: 134-138; Mulyono, 2016: 56):
Tact Maxim
Tact maxim refers to minimize cost to other and maximize benefit to other. This maxim is other oriented.
Example: Can I finish having dressed, please? Thank you.

Generosity Maxim
Generosity maxim refers to minimize benefit to self and maximize cost to self. This maxim is self-oriented and says that other should be put first instead of the self.
Example: I can lend you my car.

Approbation Maxim
Approbation maxim refers to minimize dispraise to other and maximize praise to other. This maxim is used to avoid saying unpleasant things about other.
Example: You are very creative, man.

Modesty Maxim
Modesty maxim refers to minimize praise to self and maximize dispraise to self. It concerns with the degree of good or bad evaluation of self that is performed by the speaker.
Example: Please accept this small gift.

Agreement Maxim
Agreement maxim refers to minimize disagreement to both self and other and maximize agreement to both self and other. The disagreement in this maxim usually expressed by regret or partial agreement.
Example: A: The book is tremendously well written.
       B: Yes. Well written as whole, but there are some rather boring patches.

Sympathy Maxim

Additionally, cartoon movies have supposed a potentially valuable contribution in teaching and they have visually impacted all students immediately without discrimination of age or background, are able to respond in some way to the educational point being made.

Research Methods
Research Design
This research uses qualitative research method. According to Ary (2010), qualitative research seeks to understand a phenomenon by focusing on the total picture rather than breaking it down into variables. Qualitative research deals with a research method, which focuses on the process rather than a result.

Source of Data
The source of data in this research is the movie entitled Big Hero 6. The data to be analyzed in the research of this paper is the Big Hero 6 movie’s script. The script was to be analyzed through the theories of Leech.

Data Collection
The technique to collect data of this research as follow:
a. Watching Big Hero 6 movie in order to understand the whole story (context).
b. Downloading the script of Big Hero 6 movie from the internet.

Data Analysis
In this research, the researcher uses descriptive method to analyzing the data.

a. Identifying and classifying the listed dialogue (utterances) that contains the politeness maxim (tact, generosity, approbation, modesty, agreement, and sympathy).

b. Underlying and giving codes on the collected data.

c. Analyzing and interpreting the data to answer the problem of the research based on Leech politeness principle.

d. Drawing conclusion from the result of the analysis and giving suggestion.
